Malampuzha Yakshi

The “Yakshi” Statue is yet another interesting feature in the Malampuzha area. It sits directly in the Malampuzha Gardens and is set off beautifully by the greenery that surrounds it. This statue is an enormous rock sculpture of “Yakshi” created by the renowned sculptor Kanai Kunjhiraman.

Rock Garden

Amongst the magnificent surroundings located at Malampuzha is South India's first rock garden. It is in the same area as the Malampuzha Dam and the Malampuzha Gardens. World renowned Padmsree Nekchand of Chandigarh sculpted the rock garden.

Snake Park

Located at Malampuzha.
You can watch a variety of snakes here.

Rope Way

The Udan Khatola is one of the loved attractions at Malampuzha Gardens. It is the only Passenger Ropeway in South India and is a unique and impressive way to survey the scenery below. This ropeway allows you to travel above the garden, at a height of 60 feet.

Fantasy Park

Fantasy Park is an amusement park that was designed by Neo Tech Amusements and Resorts Ltd. This amusement park won the Best Innovative Tourism Product in the State by the Kerala Tourism Department in 1998.

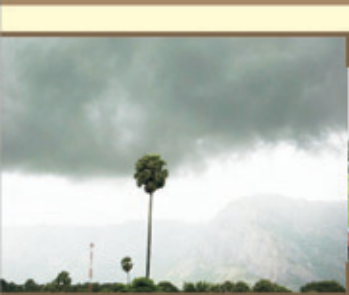

Palakkad

Situated at the foot of Western Ghats, Palakkad is known as the Granary of Kerala. It is a land of valleys, hillocks, rivers, forests, mountain streams, dams and irrigation projects. Bharathapuzha or otherwise called Nila River which has a special effect in the psyche of the state, flows through the district of Palakkad.

Some of the destinations in and around Palakkad where you can unwind yourselves in the lap of mother nature

Palakkad Fort (8km from Tripenta)

Situated at the very heart of Palakkad, it is an old granite fort, also known as Tippu's Fort. It is one of the best preserved historical monuments in Kerala. The Fort was built by Hyder Ali of Mysore in the year 1766. It is now being preserved by the Archeological Survey of India.

Jain Temple of Jainmedu (6km from Tripenta)

This historic 32 feet long, 20 feet wide granite temple displays images of Jain "Thirthankaras" and "Yakshinis". It is one of the places in Kerala where the vestiges of Jainism have survived. It is located at the western suburbs of Palakkad town.

Malampuzha Gardens (1km from Tripenta)

A catching picnic spot which comprises of a dam and beautifully landscaped gardens, Malampuzha is situated on the lower hills of Western Ghats. Rich with lush green trees and plants, hillocks and innumerable flower beds, it is rightly called the 'Brindavan of Kerala'!

Dhoni (20km from Tripenta)

It takes 3 hours of trekking from the base of Dhoni Hills to reach the reserve forest area where you will be enthralled by a small but beautiful waterfall.

Siruvani (48km from Palakkad)

Siruvani Dam is a great picnic spot. It is also home to some of the most ancient tribes like "Mudugars" and "Irulas". This area is renowned for best drinking water.

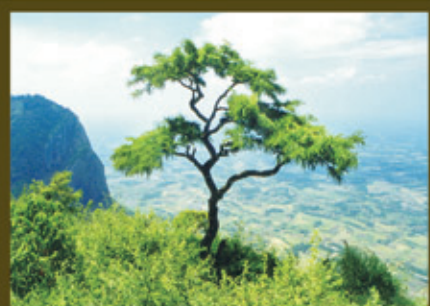

Mangalam Dam (58km from Tripenta)

This dam is built across the Cherukunnath River. The beautiful parks and lawns there are an enchanting experience to the tourists.

Nelliampathy (68km from Tripenta)

At an altitude of 4000 feet above the sea level, lies this mist clad, lush green forests of Sahya Ranges. The cloud capped mountains and deep valleys are sheer delight to the tourists. Seethekundu at Nelliampathy offers a panoramic view of about one third of Palakkad. The hill country is pure enchantment to the trekkers. Your leisure will be turned to the height of pleasure once you are there.

Silent Valley National Park (75km from Tripenta)

This 237 .52 Sq.Km. National park is believed to be the sole surviving bit of evergreen forest in Sahya Ranges. It is the home of some of the rare and endangered species of animals. The peculiarity of the Silent valley Forest is that it is devoid of even the chirping of cicadas.
